SCHOOLS CLOSE JUNE 17.

Election of Teachers Postponed Until Next Regular Meeting in July.

The city school board was in session about two hours and a half last night.

Only a small volume of business was transacted, however, and that of a general nature.

It was agreed to close the white schools on the 17th instant and the colored schools on the 18th.

A number of matters in connection with the educational system of the city were discussed, the subject which occupied most of the time of the session being the appropriation necessary to operate the schools during the ensuing year. It was finally agreed to appoint a committee to confer with the finance committee of the city council in regard to demands made upon the board for the increase in salaries of certain teachers who, under the rules, are entitled to the same.

All the members of the board were present and the business transacted was by unanimous votes.

YACHTSMAN SUSPENDED.

Without a word of condemnation or defense, Arthur W. Simpson, yachtsman and owner of the pleasure launch Lotus, was last night suspended from membership in the Corinthian Yacht Club by a unanimous vote, pending the outcome of his appearance before the grand jury to explain how two young married women were drowned and five men were saved from the launch when the little craft was run down by the excursion steamer Angler, a short distance north of Alexandria.

All the driveway bridges over Dorsey's Creek were swept away and general devastation marks the path of the cloudburst which passed over lower Lancaster county, Md., yesterday.

A feature was the removal of a corn field to the roadbed of the Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad, with perfectly good corn still standing.

Rain, thunder and lightning terrorized many people in Baltimore yesterday afternoon, and caused some damage.

Two trolley cars, well-filled with passengers, were struck by lightning, as well as the Fred Bauernschmidt brewery. Lightning also struck the steeple of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church South.

Many gardens were wrecked and it is estimated that almost an inch of rain fell within an hour.
